

Gain CPD points and broaden your expertise by engaging in Specialty Practice

Interactions or activity in Specialty Practice Groups count towards annual CPD credits if they:

- Improve your practice as a pharmacist
- Provide you with information you can use in your practice
- Prepare you for new/future roles in pharmacy
- Address the CPD needs outlined in your CPD plan.

Group 1, 2 or 3 CPD?

Group 1

- Provides new knowledge or confirms existing knowledge, or
- Prompts further exploration of the topic to expand understanding or knowledge

Group 2

- Prompts reflection on new knowledge: 'What does it mean for my practice? What do I need to do next?'
- Keep records of your reflections to count as Group-2 credits

Group 3

- Prompts change in practice in response to knowledge acquired, or
- Decision not to change practice because knowledge confirmed change was unwarranted

Keeping a record of your participation in Specialty Practice Groups is easy:

- Opt to receive an email of discussions in SPGs you are involved in
- Use discussions as the basis for reflection on your practice
- Keep emails as a record informing your practice and professional development

Don't forget to keep a record of all your CPD in accordance with Pharmacy Board of Australia CPD Registration standard by using our automatic CPD recording tool. Find out more or join Specialty Practice: www.adpha.au/workforce-research/specialty-practice.
